Connecting Reports About the Elkhorn Mining Corporation.

Assuming without verifying accuracy of Associated Press dispatch from Richmond concerning the organization of the Elkhorn Mining Corporation, we find errors therein need to be corrected, in order that accurate information may be had respecting a matter of local concern and importance. Upon interviewing Judge Hager, elected president of the corporation at Richmond Thursday, 17th inst., we obtained and now publish authentic facts with reference thereto:

On July 17th the firm of Hager & Stewart obtained a charter under the laws of the state of Virginia, duly allowed by the State Corporation at Richmond, for a company known as the Elkhorn Mining Corporation. The maximum capital stock is $6,750,000, of which $2,000,000 is preferred and cumulative after two years, and $3,750,000 of common stock, each divided into shares of $100. The corporation so formed is to lease from the Mineral Fuel Company (all of whose stock is owned by the Elkhorn Fuel Company) approximately 500 acres of land and mineral rights in Letcher county, as also 15,000 or more acres owned by the Elkhorn Fuel Company on the waters of Beaver creek, and its tributaries in Floyd and Knott counties, and to equip the property so leased with modern and efficient machinery and appliances so as to produce the greatest coal output reasonably obtainable. It is estimated that these developments will cost approximately $2,500,000. Preliminary work in anticipation of the organization of this company has been under way upon the properties proposed to be leased by it for two months or more.

The C. & O. Railway Company is now engaged in constructing a line in the property on Beaver creek, which will be completed by the 1st of January next. The L. & N. Ry. Co. already has a line extending through the property of the Mineral Fuel Company in Letcher county. The property proposed to be developed carries the Elkhorn coking, by-product and gas coal seam, both in the Letcher and Floyd and Knott county properties. The work has progressed to such an extent that it is expected the shipping of coal from the Letcher county property will begin within a few weeks, and from the Beaver creek property as soon as railroad transportation is available. The B. & O. railroad is also preparing to build into the Beaver creek field, and when this is done developments will be made along the line of this road and shipments made over the same as soon as the road is completed.

The charter organization was completed by the election of Mr. Slager as president, and Messrs. Chalkley and Filippin, respectively as secretary and treasurer. A full board of directors was elected at Richmond, and at the next meeting of the board on the return of Messrs. Watson, Mayo and Stemp from their vacation trip abroad the company will be further organized by the election of the following officers:

Hon. C. W. Watson, President.
Geo. C. C. Mayo, J. N. Camden, W. Fleming and Geo. A. Baird, Presidents.

J. D. Camden, Treasurer.
J. W. M. Stewart, Secretary.
J. W. Caulfield, Assistant Secretary and Treasurer.

In the meantime, preliminary arrangements are under way for subscriptions to the capital stock, and arrangements therefor in such installments as will be needed to finance the extensive operations of the company.

From these statements of the purposes and intent of this corporation, it will be seen that the Associated Press telegram that it was a holding company, is most glaringly inaccurate, the purpose being to undertake, conduct and continue the most active operations and of magnitude and extent unequalled by the operations of any company in Kentucky, unless those of the Consolidation Coal Company in the Jenkins-McRoberts field. The company will be under the capable direction and management of men of ample financial resources and of proved ability in developing coal properties upon broad and successful lines.—Ashland Independent.

HEAT STROKE.

Two cases of sun stroke, or heat stroke, in one day in Louisa should be a warning against unnecessary labor and exposure during the heated term. This is a time above all others when everyone should be temperate in all things and totally abstinent in some. Heat stroke falling upon a drinker of alcoholics with the mercury playing with the century mark on the little glass tube is almost always fatal. A bloated boozier is fat picking for old soj.

There are two different forms of sun or heat stroke, equally serious, and each requires a different treatment. A man drops, often without warning. He is unconscious, red in the face, hot, pulse full and bounding. This man needs ice to his head and back of his neck. No alcohol. Another sometimes feels that he is very sick and weak. Presently he, too, topples over. He has very little pulse and his extremities are cold, almost clammy. This case needs strichnine, nitro-glycerine, whiskey. His case is the more serious of the two—either is bad enough. From some attacks men get well enough to go about, but they are liable to repeated attacks, with less provocation than before. Some men have gone crazy as the result of heat stroke. Guard well your eating and let the other fellow do the boozing.

Has Something to Say to the Voters of Lawrence County.

To the Republicans of Lawrence Co.: I am a candidate for the office of County Superintendent, and want you to vote for me at the August Primary next Saturday.

I have been teaching for twenty-five years. I hold a State Professional Certificate in West Virginia. I have a diploma from Holston College, with the degree of A. M.

For the State of West Virginia and the State of Kentucky I have conducted Teachers' Institutes.

If the question of my eligibility for the office should be raised, be assured of the fact that I will qualify at the next examination to be held August 15th and 16th, 1913, as provided in the law I may do.

If nominated and elected I promise to administer the office of County Superintendent to the best of my ability. I shall ever keep in mind the interest of parent, teacher and pupil, all of whom must work in harmony to secure best results.

In view of the fact that I cannot see you personally I take this means of addressing you personally.

Give me this nomination and I will be elected in November.

Very truly and sincerely yours,

J. BASCOM McClure.

BITTEN BY CAT.

On Saturday last Mrs. William Johnson, who lives on Georges Creek, this county, was severely bitten on the leg by a cat. The fangs of the animal met in the woman's flesh, making a very painful wound. On Sunday Mrs. Johnson was brought to the Louisa hospital, where the wound was cauterized. It had been reported that the cat had been previously bitten by a dog which was said to be "mad," but which was probably only angry. The cat was killed, while it should have been confined and kept under observation long enough to ascertain if it really had rabies. This should be the course pursued in every case where hydrophobia is suspected. It would save much alarm and mental distress.

After deliberating a little over half an hour the jury in the case of S. U. G. Rhodes, Mingo county legislator, returned a verdict of guilty as charged within the indictment. The penalty is from five to ten years in the penitentiary.

Bail Fixed at $2000 for Floyd County

Mar.

George Hatcher, who is charged with having shot and wounded three men at Harold, Floyd county, Wednesday, July 23rd, has had an examining trial and been held in $2,000 bail for his appearance in the Floyd circuit court. Bail was furnished and he was released. The wounded men, Frank Vincent, of Soldier, Ky., Will Goodman, of Harold, and James Smith, of the same place, are reported doing well. Vincent, who is a brother of Mrs. C. M. Summers, of this city, is in a hospital in Huntington. Smith is at home, the least hurt of any, and Goodman is in the Louisa hospital, where he was brought last Saturday for treatment. The first shot fired went through the right side of Goodman's coat and then through Vincent's head. The next bullet passed through Goodman's body and lodged in the depot wall. The third bullet passed through Smith's arm.

How a 45-caliber ball could enter a man's back, pass clear through his body, coming out an inch or two to the left of the center of the abdomen is a mystery, yet this is exactly what the ball that wounded Goodman did. It is not one time in a thousand that a bullet could take such a course and do so little harm.

The NEWS is in possession of what purports to be the facts of this latest of Floyd county's near tragedies, but they come entirely from one side, and if related in this paper might affect the final trial.

After Will Goodman's experience and his venture upon the matrimonial sea a few years ago he is prepared for almost any sort of luck, good or bad. He bears the unique distinction of being probably the only living specimen of a man who married twice the same day living to tell the story. It is something like this:

The lady who became Mrs. Goodman on both occasions lived in Pike county not far from the Floyd line.

On the day set for the solemnization of the rites the groom-to-be went to the nearest clerk in Floyd county and procured a license and a preacher. Equipped with these essentials he went to the home of the good woman who was to become a Goodman and the twain became one. Late in the same afternoon the preacher came back under whip and spur and told the happy pair that as the license had been issued in Floyd they would have to go down to that county and have the ceremony repeated.

This they immediately proceeded to do and all obstacles in way of connubial bliss were removed.

A SOLEMN WARNING.

Jeff Wilson and Brakeman Parsons were both working when they were sun struck last Monday. There are several young fellers in and around Louisa and Fort Gay who, having neither money nor rich kin, live without work. The NEWS begs of them not to try to do anything during this hot weather. The result of doing anything harder than rolling a cigarette is too dreadful to contemplate. If you must do something, take a gentle stroll after the sun goes down or give another roll to the bottom of your pants, but do be careful.

TO CUT KENTUCKY TIMBER.

The Rockcastle Lumber Co. of Huntington, writes to the Manufacturers Record as follows:

"We have purchased the timber on 7000 to 8000 acres of land on the water of Cold Water fork and Rockcastle creek, in Martin county, Ky. This timber will be manufactured at our present mill site near Delong, Ky. The purchase will necessitate our building about 10 miles of main line railroad and about 15 miles of logging road. This road will develop about 30,000,000 feet of stumps. We are not in the market for any equipment whatever except two engines and 20 or 40 logging cars. We have the balance of the equipment necessary to operate the tract in question, and it will be manufactured in connection with our present site in Martin county."

GOFF-EVANS.

On Wednesday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. James Evans, this city, Miss Roma Goff, of Pike county, was married to Milton Evans, of Louisa. The Rev. H. B. Hewlett was the officiating clergyman and Miss Mary Evans and Mr. J. Israelsky witnessed the ceremony.

CLASS PICNIC.

The Sunday School class of Mrs. A. L. Burton went to the country Tuesday for a picnic. A big two-horse rig, loaded with girls and other nice things went to the pleasant home of Mrs. Hester Carter, of Yatesville, and had a jolly time. The weather might have been a little cooler without anybody getting frost bitten, but nobody seemed to mind the weather. A good time was expected and had.

CAMP MEETING

At Fountain Park, Louisa, from August 8th to 18th.

The Fountain Park camp meeting will be held in the Point opposite Louisa on August 8th to 18th, under the leadership of C. F. Strong and wife, of Columbus, Ohio.

These camp meetings have been held every August during the last few years. Mrs. L. C. McClure is the owner of the camp meeting grounds and makes arrangements for the meetings every year. She hopes to have a large attendance and much good accomplished.

HEAT OVERCAME JEFF WILSON.

While at work at the steam stone crusher on the cemetery hill Monday afternoon Jeff Wilson was overcome by the intense heat. He at once started for home and managed to get into the house before he became entirely prostrated. A physician was hurriedly sent for and Dr. Bromley responded and administered restoratives. For some time Mr. Wilson was in a serious condition, but he is now much better.

OPEN THE POLLS ON TIME.

On more than one occasion the polls in Louisa have not been opened at 6 o'clock a. m., sometimes delaying the casting of votes for a period of 20 or 30 minutes. On this account men who desired to vote and leave on an early train have been compelled to go away without voting. It is the duty of the election officers to open the polls at the appointed time, having made proper preparation for receiving the vote. Remember the hour.

REMARKABLE CASE.

Voluntary Surrender of Life Term Man Who Escaped 21 Years Ago.

Frankfort, Ky., July 25.—Clement H. Koors, who escaped from the Frankfort reformatory Sept. 6, 1892, walked into Warden Wells' office this afternoon at 5 o'clock and gave himself up. Dusty records were hauled down from stacks in the storeroom, identification marks produced to corroborate Koors' statements, and with a sigh of relief he donned the second-grade prisoner's garb. He had been a fugitive for twenty-one years, he said, and is now 53 years old.

Then he told the story of his wanderings over the United States and Mexico. He had shot and killed his brother-in-law, Henry H. Bruns, in Covington, for beating his sister, Bruns' wife. That was in December, 1881. The following September he was sentenced to life imprisonment and brought to Frankfort. In the course of the next ten years he became a trusty, and in 1892 he was employed in the warehouse outside the walls.

Hearing that his sister, for whom he had shot his brother-in-law, was in trouble, he became restless and on Sunday, Sept. 6, 1892, he hid behind a barricade of chairs until the prisoners were marched out, then changed for a suit he had secured for the purpose, put on a pair of goggles and walked down the street past the prison gate and hid along the river, while guards searched all around for him. That night he struck out along the railroad track and caught a train into Louisville, thence went to Millhouse, Ind., from which place he communicated with his mother and she went to him. His mother gave him money, admonished him to do something to make amends for his crime and bade him good-bye. Her words, Koors declared, haunted continually as he wandered throughout California and Mexico, back to San Antonio and thence to New York City. He risked his freedom once to take a last farewell of his aged mother and went to Covington. Again her words came to him, and New York, where he lived under his mother's maiden name, Geo. Brugger, he met a woman who he says he married to save from a life of degradation. She conducted a rooming house, while he worked at the trade of harnessmaker, learned in prison. But the rooming house, unknown to him, was, he says, a blind for immoral practices, and the police raided. His wife was taken to the Tombs ten days ago and there he went to visit her.

"The sight of the walls and bars crushed the little remaining spirit out of me," said Koors. "I hadn't enjoyed a minute's peace for 21 years. My life was one continuous flight from one place to another and here was my home broken up and the prison again looming up before me. I hurried down to the waterfront, intent on suicide, but the vision of my mother rose before me and I prayed for guidance. Then I tossed a dime—heads I should jump in the water. I tossed it three times and every time it came up tails. I obeyed the impulse that came to me there and started right back to Frankfort."

Koors walked into the warden's office calmly and as calmly inquired if the warden was in. Warden Wells was pointed out to him and said he would see the visitor in a few minutes. "It's very important business I came on," declared Koors with an insistent note in his voice, which moved the warden to invite him into a private room at once. There Koors told his story, but it was so remarkable Warden Wells was unconvinced until Koors was positively identified. This evening Koors ate dinner at the home of Warden Wells, while he recited in detail his career as a fugitive. He is spending the night in a cell.

LAWRENCE CO. BOY KILLED.

John Lyons, aged 19 years, son of Andrew Lyons, of Ulysses, Lawrence county, who was employed as brakeman at the Kentucky Solvay Coke plant, was caught between a switch engine and a coal car at the plant Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and was so badly injured that he died three hours later while on the operating table at the King's Daughters' hospital.

The unfortunate young man's left leg was badly crushed from the knee down, and his right leg was broken above the knee.

According to the evidence of Bert Lyons, engineer on the engine, a 30-ton "dinky," and Tom Callahan, who were on the engine, the brakes refused to work, permitting the engine to strike against the coal car, catching young Lyons, who was on the rear of the engine, which was backing down a steep incline at the time of the accident.—Ashland Independent.

DEATH OF MRS. JOHN MARTIN.

We have just learned of the death of Mrs. John Martin, wife of one of the most influential ministers of the Western Virginia Conference, who died last night at her home at Guyandotte, W. Va. Mrs. Martin was of the family of James Kilgore of this place, and also has other relatives here. Misses Birdie and Adah Kilgore and Mrs. Barbee, of this place, went to the stricken home this morning. Mrs. Martin's death was caused from stomach trouble.—Catlettsburg item.

THE SICK.

Mr. R. T. Burns has been very sick this week but is now considerably improved. Heat and a disordered digestive system were the principal causes. His grandson, little "R. T." Johnson, is also quite ill.

Mrs. Jay Vinson has been very ill of typhoid fever. She is doing about as well as could be expected.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Burchett continues sick, with intervals of slight improvement. On Friday last Dr. James Kincaid, of Catlettsburg, was called into the case in consultation with Dr. Bromley.

Mrs. Margaret Moore remains very sick, with very little if any hope of ultimate recovery.

MARCUS-HARDWICK.

Homer Marcus, age 22, of Ceredo, W. Va., married Miss Ruth Hardwick, age 15, of Fort Gay, a few days ago. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. L. P. Hardwick and was visiting at Ceredo when the match was hastily made. The groom is a son of the late Judge W. W. Marcus, and is a promising young lawyer. The bride is a pretty and highly respected girl.

REMARKABLE CASE.

Voluntary Surrender of Life Term Man Who Escaped 21 Years Ago.

Frankfort, Ky., July 25.—Clement H. Koors, who escaped from the Frankfort reformatory Sept. 6, 1892, walked into Warden Wells' office this afternoon at 5 o'clock and gave himself up. Dusty records were hauled down from stacks in the storeroom, identification marks produced to corroborate Koors' statements, and with a sigh of relief he donned the second-grade prisoner's garb. He had been a fugitive for twenty-one years, he said, and is now 53 years old.

Then he told the story of his wanderings over the United States and Mexico. He had shot and killed his brother-in-law, Henry H. Bruns, in Covington, for beating his sister, Bruns' wife. That was in December, 1881. The following September he was sentenced to life imprisonment and brought to Frankfort. In the course of the next ten years he became a trustee, and in 1892 he was employed in the warehouse outside the walls.

Hearing that his sister, for whom he had shot his brother-in-law, was in trouble, he became restless and on Sunday, Sept. 6, 1892, he hid behind a barricade of chairs until the prisoners were marched out, then changed for a suit he had secured for the purpose, put on a pair of goggles and walked down the street past the prison gate and hid along the river, while guards searched all around for him. That night he struck out along the railroad track and caught a train into Louisville, thence went to Millhousier, Ind., from which place he communicated with his mother and she went to him. His mother gave him money, admonished him to do something to make amends for his crime and bade him good-bye. Her words, Koors declared, haunted continually as he wandered throughout California and Mexico, back to San Antonio and thence to New York City. He risked his freedom once to take a last farewell of his aged mother and went to Covington. Again her words came to him, and New York, where he lived under his mother's maiden name, Geo. Brugger, he met a woman who he says he married to save from a life of degradation. She conducted a rooming house, while he worked at the trade of harnessmaker, learned in prison. But the rooming house, unknown to him, was, he says, a blind for immoral practices, and the police raided. His wife was taken to the Tombs ten days ago and there he went to visit her.

"The sight of the walls and bars crushed the little remaining spirit out of me," said Koors. "I hadn't enjoyed a minute's peace for 21 years. My life was one continuous flight from one place to another and here was my home broken up and the prison again looming up before me. I hurried down to the waterfront, intent on suicide, but the vision of my mother rose before me and I prayed for guidance. Then I tossed a dime—heads I should jump in the water. I tossed it three times and every time it came up tails. I obeyed the impulse that came to me there and started right back to Frankfort."

Koors walked into the warden's office calmly and as calmly inquired if the warden was in. Warden Wells was pointed out to him and said he would see the visitor in a few minutes. "It's very important business I come on," declared Koors with an insistent note in his voice, which moved the warden to invite him into a private room at once. There Koors told his story, but it was so remarkable Warden Wells was unconvinced until Koors was positively identified. This evening Koors ate dinner at the home of Warden Wells, while he recited in detail his career as a fugitive. He is spending the night in a cell.

LAWRENCE CO. BOY KILLED.

John Lyons, aged 19 years, son of Andrew Lyons, of Ulysses, Lawrence county, who was employed as brakeman at the Kentucky Solvay Coke plant, was caught between a switch engine and a coal car at the plant Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and was so badly injured that he died three hours later while on the operating table at the King's Daughters' hospital.

The unfortunate young man's left leg was badly crushed from the knee down, and his right leg was broken above the knee. According to the evidence of Bert Lyons, engineer on the engine, a 30-ton "dinky," and Tom Callahan, who were on the engine, the brakes refused to work, permitting the engine to strike against the coal car, catching young Lyons, who was on the rear of the engine, which was backing down a steep incline at the time of the accident.—Ashland Independent.

DEATH OF MRS. JOHN MARTIN.

We have just learned of the death of Mrs. John Martin, wife of one of the most influential ministers of the Western Virginia Conference, who died last night at her home at Guyandotte, W. Va. Mrs. Martin was of the family of James Kilgore of this place, and also has other relatives here. Misses Birdie and Adah Kilgore and Mrs. Barbee, of this place, went to the stricken home this morning. HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

Books are wonderful, not only in their multiplicity, but in their persuasive power. The books and paper of today mould the minds of men. They are not only an intellectual but a moral force. If all books and papers were correct in principle and in judgment, there would be a rapid decline in crime. Crime is due to ignorance and ignorance is due to false teaching or no teaching. Much of the viciousness, anarchy and restlessness of modern times is due to the pernicious influence of newspapers and books written by men who are either purposely deluding the people or lacking in understanding. If we would purify our people we must put our newspapers into the hands of men who will not sacrifice truth and morality to political and financial ends. We must have a literary censorship, that books may be examined and those of evil influence condemned before they reach the people. We all have much to learn and it is economy of time to read only the old and well tried books. Books and papers teach us to know life—the present and the past. They stimulate and train the mind. They inspire us by example and precept. They teach us morality. They help us to distinguish between the good and the false. They quicken the imagination. They give us worthy and beautiful things to think and talk about. They are the best and most accessible means of education.

We have no desire to throw any bouquets at ourselves, but believe there is not a family that reads this department in our paper from week to week that is not benefited and stimulated to better things. It encourages all that is good and discourages all that is evil. If you agree with us speak a good word and help us to place our paper in every home in the community.

The Man Who Laughs.
The man whose ha! ha! reaches from one end of the street to the other may be the same fellow who scolded his wife and spanked the baby before he got his breakfast, but his laughter is only the cradle influence that a sweet minded wo of thorns under the pot. The man who spends his laughter through his life—before a late breakfast; when he misses the train, when his wife goes visiting and he has to eat a cold supper; the man who can laugh when he finds a button off his shirt, when the furnace goes out at night, and the twins come down with the measles at the same time—he's the fellow that's needed. He never tells his neighbor to have faith; somehow he puts faith into him. He delivers no homilies; somehow the sight of his face, the sound of his happy voice and the light of his blessed daily life, carry conviction that words have not power to give. The blues flee before him as the fog before the wind. He comes into his own home like a flood of sunshine over a meadow of blooming buttercups, and his wife and children bloom like June roses. His home is redolent with sympathy and love. The neighborhood is better for his life, and somebody will learn from his that laughter is better than tears. The world needs this man. Why are there so few of them? Can he be created? Can he be evolved? Why is he not in every house, turning rain into sunshine and winter into summer all the year around until life is a perpetual season of joy?

So great is the influence of a sweet minded woman on those around her that it is almost boundless. It is to her that friends come in sorrow and sickness for help and comfort; one soothing touch of her kindly hand works wonders in the feverish child; a few words let fall from her lips in the ear of a sorrow stricken sister do much to comfort the cosy sitting room, and seeing its victim down to the dust in anguish. The husband comes home, worn out with the pressure of business and feeling irritable with the world in general, but when he enters the cosy sitting room, and sees the blaze of fire and meets his wife's smiling face, he succumbs in a moment to the soothing influences which act as the balm of Gilead to his wounded spirits that are wearied with the stern realities of life. The rough school boy flies into a rage from the taunts of his companions, to find solace in his mother's smile; the little one, full of grief with its large trouble, finds a haven of rest on its mother's breast. And so one might go on with instance after instance of the man has on the social life with which she is connected. Beauty is an insignificant power when compared with hers.

Let us covet our neighbor's kindness of heart and gentleness of manners, that we may grow wise and noble and tender hearted, that we may be helpful and comforting and inspiring to those whom we meet as we journey onward through life. If we are not by nature gracious and warm hearted and helpful, let us learn to be so. If we have not learned to say the kind word, to be cheery and charitable and to lend a hand to those who need assistance, we may be thankful for one thing—that it is never too late to mend.

SECRETARY'S REPORT of Lawrence County S. S. Convention Held in Louisa July 9-10.

The Lawrence County Sunday School Convention met at Louisa, Ky., July 9th, in M. E. Church, South, with Mr. M. S. Burns, pres., Emma Thompson, sec., and Mrs. Emma Vinson, organist.

Convention opened with singing, "Beautiful Words," and prayer by the ex-president of Association, Mr. R. T. Burns.

The roll was then called and the following named delegates were present: (The list of delegates present having been already published it is omitted from this report.)

Bible Study, "The Gospel of Matthew," was very ably discussed by Rev. C. M. Summers.

"The S. S. Its Relation to the Church" was discussed very interestingly by Rev. Olius Hamilton. He said the S. S. was under the control of the church and its greatest helper. 83 per cent of new membership comes direct from the S. S. and without a good, lively S. S. the church was practically dead. Mr. R. T. Burns commented on this tail saying it was so true and beneficial that he wished everybody could be made to realize it, and to push the S. S. work for it is The Great Factor in the Salvation of Souls.

"Grading and Departmentizing" was talked upon in a very instructive manner by Mr. W. J. Vaughan. He said when the S. S. was graded and all pupils of same ages put in classes or departments to themselves, there was much more interest and better teaching could be and was done. Pupils of sixteen do not enjoy being in a class with pupils twelve and likewise through all ages. Therefore there is lack of interest and without interest there can be no real teaching. There are fewer graded S. S. in Kentucky than in any other state.

"The Teen Age Boys" talked upon by Miss Madeline Reager was well worth hearing. She asked for the number of teachers present and there were sixteen, three of whom were teachers of teen age boys. She then asked those teachers to give their problems with the teen age boys. Mr. J. H. McClure said his problems were: To get them to attend; to attend regularly; to get them interested in the lessons. Miss Reager suggested that the teacher go out after the boys and make them feel, some means, that they were wanted and needed at the S. S., then they would go. Give to each boy something to prepare that he is interested in and he will attend regularly and be interested too. She said these boys should always have a man teacher for that is the time of all times when they need sympathy, as they are awkward, timid and self-conscious at that age, and no one knows how to sympathize unless he or she has had similar experiences. The man has had the experiences of the boy and knows how to treat him. She work in our county. Miss Reager also pleads most earnestly for Christian teachers, for all ages, but especially at the teen age, for they have a great love for truth and a longing to know. So unless the teacher is a Christian he will neglect to teach the very important lessons of Bible heroes, missionary heroes and Christ, the Hero, and certainly will fail to live the life and be the example he should be for his pupils, who like to do, and will do, as their teacher, who should be a real companion and friend to them.

Mr. W. J. Vaughan talked about the World's S. S. Convention now in session in Switzerland and asked that a special prayer be offered at this convention for that great convention. He made some announcements and urged the district officers to report at once to Co. Sec.

The afternoon session began by singing "There is Power in the Blood," and prayer by Rev. French Rice.

Bible period, "The Gospel of Mark," was talked upon very interestingly by Rev. C. B. Plummer.

Song, "Precious Name" was sung, then Miss Reager talked upon the "Secondary Division Girl" or Teen Age Girl. She said the secondary division girl should have a woman teacher for a woman only could, and would sympathize with them, and they, like the boys of teen age, need sympathy, as they are giggly, sensitive and idealistic. The Woman has been the Girl, therefore she can be patient, kind and thoughtful for her. Again she pleads for Christian teachers, for the real teacher is a friend and companion and must guide, not point, to God.

"The Why and How of Teacher Training," talked upon by Rev. C. M. Summers, was very interesting and instructive. He was able to make us see that a school is an efficient school just in proportion to the efficiency of the officers and teachers. Officers and teachers can be efficient by teacher training. Then why not have it? We should have other things taught besides just the lesson, catechism, etc. Young ones should be taught how to teach so as to be able to take the place of the old ones who are dying out. Is it not plain enough why we should have Teacher Training? "The How." Just get busy and enroll or enlist those only who are really interested in teaching, not every one we can enroll whether.

After singing "Where He Leads Me," Prof. E. M. Kennison talked upon "Organized Classes and their Activities" in a very splendid manner.

He said an organization is a machine. A machine to be of use must have power, therefore an organized class must have a membership committee to get new and hold old members; a devotional committee to help things spiritually, and a social committee to arrange the social features.

Get and keep thees committees working, with a live teacher and there would be good results.

Pres. Burns appointed the following committees: Nominating committee, consisting of Rev. J. W. Crittes, Olius Hamilton, C. M. Summers and C. B. Plummer. Committee on Resolutions, consisting of Mr. R. T. Burns, Mrs. Phebe Wallace, Mr. B. J. Calloway and Prof. E. M. Kennison.

Evening session began by singing "Scatter Sunshine," and prayer by Rev. C. M. Summers.

"Thirty Minutes with the Gospel of Luke," talked upon very instructively by Rev. Olius Hamilton.

"The Little Brown Church in the Vale" was sung by the Male Quartette of the M. E. Church and enjoyed by all.

"The Demands of the Hour on the Churches and S. S." by Rev. Fred Shannon, was certainly worth hearing. He emphasized the great importance of Efficiency, Concentration, and Consecration, especially Consecration, for we might be efficient so far as study and practice are concerned, but if we have not consecrated lives, we can not and will not, lead souls to God.

The last but not the least of the exercises of the evening was a solo by Miss Kate Freese, which of course was enjoyed by all.

Pres. Burns then took a free-will offering for the S. S. work and received thirty-one dollars.

Morning session began with song and prayer. Mr. R. T. Burns then gave one of his good S. S. talks. While he is too old and feeble to do much more S. S. work, he continues to help this work by his presence at conventions and by his prayers. Pres. Burns also gave a short but interesting talk.

Bible study, "The Gospel of John" was talked upon by Rev. J. W. Crittes in a very interesting way.

Mr. W. J. Vaughan explained the condition of Secondary Division work in our county. Miss Reager also pleads most earnestly for Christian teachers, for all ages, but especially at the teen age, for they have a great love for truth and a longing to know. So unless the teacher is a Christian he will neglect to teach the very important lessons of Bible heroes, missionary heroes and Christ, the Hero, and certainly will fail to live the life and be the example he should be for his pupils, who like to do, and will do, as their teacher, who should be a real companion and friend to them.

Mr. Burns read the report on resolutions which was adopted, but on motion by Rev. Plummer and adopted.

Miss Reager talked on the Graduated Lessons and their importance; also on the importance of Bible stories to beginners and primary pupils and the great importance of living pure, spiritual life in order to help lead others to Christ.

The secretary read the report of S. S. work.

beg leave to submit the following:

Resolved 1st, That Louisa has sustained her enviable reputation for hospitality in truth we are proud of Louisa and her generous citizens and right well do they deserve the praise that has been given them. And we now thank them for their splendid manner in which they have taken us into their homes and are for us. This kindness and generosity has had no little part in making Lawrence the banner county of the State.

Resolved 2nd, We thank Mrs. Vinson, Mrs. Wallace, Miss Burns and the choir for the excellent music. We thank Messrs. Plummer, Cain, Thompson and Atkins for the beautiful quartette rendered.

Amended: We thank Miss Freese for the beautiful solo.

Resolved 3rd, We again extend the thanks of the entire convention and all Sunday School workers to the two local papers that have aided us. The NEWS for many years has been the friend of S. S. and we are glad to see that the Enterprise is planning the same policy.

Resolved 4th, Since our last meeting our beloved brother, O. J. Vaughan, has gone to his reward, and we feel deeply the loss sustained in his death. He was a prompt, faithful and efficient secretary for many years. May he rest in peace.

Resolved 5th, We are grateful that Mr. R. T. Burns, who was for many years president of the county association, was able to be with us. May he have spared many years to aid and counsel the association.

Resolved 6th, We point with pride to the many faithful S. S. workers in Lawrence county, and this morning send them words of encouragement and good cheer.

Resolved 7th, We thank the officers and members of the M. E. Church South for the use of their church building, and we thank Bro. Albert Murray for his efforts to keep us cool and comfortable.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MCCLURE,

Organization—W. T. Caiz, Sr.

Education—E. M. Kennison.

Missions—Mrs. Ruth Atkinson.

Temperance—R. C. McClure.

The committee respectfully submits this report. COMMITTEE.

OUR SCHOOL DEPARTMENT.

to Teachers and Patrons:

I have noticed in some instances that teachers are not making an effort to follow the course of study. Now we have sent instructions to every teacher and those failing to comply with these instructions and follow the course of study will be reported to the county superintendent and Board of Education.

If you are having trouble with your attendants, report to me at once, sending name and age of those failing to be in school.

I notice in some districts that the people get mad at the teacher and send their children to other districts. Now this is unlawful and doing both parties an injustice. You MUST send your children where they belong unless satisfactory arrangements are made with the teachers and trustees.

Remember that every teacher must figure her attendance based upon the census of her district, and those coming from other districts CAN NOT be included. Resp'y,

FRISKY FARMER.WELL TOLD

By a Louisa Resident.

The following has more interest for Louisa residents than it otherwise would have because Mr. Pigg is one of ourselves, a citizen of Louisa. If it prove of assistance to but one person in Louisa, it will have been well worth the telling.

G. E. Pigg, Main Cross St., Louisa, Ky., says: "For several years I was subject to severe backaches. I had much trouble in passing the kidney secretions. Sometimes the secretions were profuse, then again scant and highly colored. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured at the Louisa Drug Store, and they gave me the first relief I had received. After using this remedy, I enjoyed better health and entire freedom from kidney trouble. I have been well since. I am glad to confirm the endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—DOAN'S and take no other.

Mrs. Ida Smith Kinser has re-signed her position as chief telephone operator and left Tuesday to join her husband at Gallipolis where they will make their future home.

W. VA. HILLS.

DAD ARRIVES TOO LATE.

Ironton, O., July 29.—Geo. Alexander, of Floyd county, Ky., arrived here today in pursuit of his daughter, Miss Oma Alexander, five minutes after she had been married to Lawrence Jenkins. The father said the girl was only 15 years old and that Jenkins had induced her to elope with him when she was on her way to school this morning.

OPERATION NOT ADVISABLE.

On Friday last, Miss Maud Burgett, who had gone to Riverview hospital for treatment, submitted to an instrumental examination to ascertain the nature of her trouble. As a result it was decided that an operation was not advisable. The examination was made by Dr. L. H. York, Dr. Kincaid, of Cattlettburg, Bromley and Wrotten assisting.

DIED IN CHURCH.

Ira H. Borders, aged about 60 years, fell dead in the Walnut Grove Baptist church at Ulysses this county, on Tuesday, July 29th. He had been a staunch member of that church for many years and was attending a service when death called him to his reward.

Mr. Borders was an uncle of Mr. A. L. Burton, of this city.

CASTLE-HINKLE.

Carl Castle and Miss Nola Hinkle were married in Ironton Wednesday of this week. Both live at Richardson, this county. The bride is a daughter of R. D. Hinkle and sister of County Attorney James W. Hinkle. She is an attractive young lady. The groom is a son of Scott Castle.

BOY SCOUTS AND BRYAN.

They endorse the Secretary's Total Abstinence Principles.

A company of boy scouts recently called on Secretary of State Bryan to present an engrossed copy of the following resolutions:

Having just celebrated Mother's day, it is fitting and proper that we should enlist under our mothers' banner in the war against the demon of strong drink; therefore be it.

Resolved, That we, troop 16 of the Ingram Memorial Congregational church of Washington, D. C., do hereby endorse the action of our secretary of state in his brave stand against King Alcohol and his hosts.

The secretary was highly pleased with the testimonial and thanked the boy scouts for the resolution. He said in part: "I appreciate the compliment which you pay me in endorsing what I have done in regard to serving liquor at the table. If since I have grown to manhood I had ever felt tempted to begin the drinking of liquor I would have been restrained by the feeling that my act might injuriously affect some who look to me for an example, and I have felt that more especially in public life, for as one becomes better known his example has more farreaching influence. I shall feel that I have not lived entirely in vain if by abstaining from the use of intoxicating liquors as beverages I have given strength to any one to help him resist temptation."

The Truth About Alcohol.

Frederick Peterson, M. D., professor of psychiatry at Columbia university and ex-president of the New York state commission on lunacy, has the following printed on his prescription blanks:

Alcohol is a poison.

It is claimed by some that alcohol is a food. If so, it is a poisoned food.

The daily regular use of alcohol, even in moderation, often leads to chronic alcoholism.

One is poisoned less rapidly by the use of beer than by drinking wines, gin, whisky and brandy.

Alcohol is one of the most common causes of insanity, epilepsy, paralysis, diseases of the liver and stomach, dropsy and tuberculosis.

A father or mother who drinks poisonsons the children born to them, so that many die in infancy, while others grow up as idiots and epileptics.

HUGHEY, W. VA.Every Drunkard Was at One Time a Moderate Drinker.*JAMES J. CORBETT OWES HIS LIFE TO ABSTAINING.

Once Champion Pugilist Has Not Touched Liquor in Years.

By JAMES J. CORBETT.

My lecture on temperance given before the Whitestone branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has caused a lot of amusement among my friends. They seem to think it strange that a pugilist should talk on temperance.

I don't think there is anything funny about it. A great many people think that because a man is a pugilist he must certainly be a drinking man. That is a false impression.

I know a great many pugilists who do not drink, and one of that class is James J. Corbett.

Take a good look at me. I will be forty-seven years old next September. I know I don't look it, for I am taken for thirty-five or thirty-six every day. How do I do it? Temperance and clean living—that's the answer.

Last October I was stricken with appendicitis, carried out of my hotel in Philadelphia to a hospital, where they examined me and found that my appendix had broken and peritonitis had set in. The surgeons said I would not live through the night. Well, here I am alive and well again.

During my convalescence I asked the doctor what pulled me through. "Your wonderful constitution and vitality," he replied.

"You are not a drinking man, are you?" the doctor asked.

"No," I said.

"I thought not," he returned. "If you had been you would be a dead man today."

In the Nevada bank in San Francisco in which I was a clerk the vice president was a drinking man. When I first noticed him he was only a very moderate drinker, but each year he got to drinking more and more until the sixth year, my last in the institution before leaving to become a pugilist. That year he was drinking heavily.

Many times at the solicitation of the man's wife I went around to dives in San Francisco and took him home. This of course did not set a very good example to the clerks in the bank, who were naturally inclined to look up to and emulate a man occupying such an important position.

About fifteen years after I left the bank I was sitting in my cafe on Broadway, in New York, one night, when I staggered an intoxicated man, very seedy in appearance and with disheveled hair and bloodshot eyes. He called out, "Hello, Jimmy Corbett." I went up to him, looked closely at him for several moments and was horrified to recognize in that beatified creature the man who was formerly vice president of a large bank and possessed of a comfortable fortune. The poor fellow was completely down and out. I gave him some money, and I haven't seen him since.

Any man who would not profit by an example of that kind must be crazy. It certainly was a wonderful lesson to me, and I have never taken a drink since that night. I had occasionally taken a glass of beer or wine before that, but now I am a teetotaler.

Have I any message for the young men of today? Yes, and here it is:

Young men, never take the first drink. I know that it takes a lot of moral courage for a young man who has just come to a great city and is going out with friends to refuse invitations to drink. He is called a Ruse and guyed unmercifully, but if he exercises the moral courage to refuse touch the stuff he will congratulate himself later.

ABSTAINERS PREFERRED.

Most Employers Consider Drinking Habits In Hiring Men.

The United States commissioner of labor made an investigation into the question as to what extent the fact of being a drinking man bars a man from obtaining employment.

Circulars of inquiry were sent to 7,000 employing concerns, all of which are representative in their lines of business. There were 6,976 replies received. Of these 5,303 state they take the drink habit into consideration in employing new men. The reason given by most is that it is simply a business precaution. The employer is liable for damages done by accident in his establishment, and it is only prudent to employ men with clear heads.

The reason is a good one and should be pondered by every workingman. To have a reputation as a sober man is distinctly in a man's favor in obtaining work, and in these days of intense competition every man who desires to prosper will see the necessity as a bit of business prudence for avoiding the drink habit.

THE DANGER OF EXAMPLE.

The greater the character, respectability and influence of the moderate drinker the more powerful his example for evil, for he is practically advancing and advocating the fallacious theory that the use of alcoholic beverages in moderation is safe, healthful and respectable and thus leading the young and inexperienced into fatal error.

WHAT, WHEN AND HOW TO EAT

[Copyright, 1913, by American Press Association.]

HERE are three common laws that govern all forms of animal life—namely, nutrition, motion, oxidation, or, in other words, eating, exercising and breathing. Both exercising and breathing are automatic processes; therefore they are done in accordance with nature, but it is different with our food.

Man has put into his stomach in some form or other nearly everything on the face of the earth, and his efforts have been crowned with a series of mistakes that are largely responsible for a condition of universal disease and a woeful shortening of life.

As this series of articles will deal largely with these mistakes and how to correct them, I will first take up the subject of nutrition—man's food. I will subdivide this subject into three parts—selecting, combining and proportioning.

In order to get the best results the diet must be selected so as to contain all the elements of nourishment the body needs. It must be combined so as to be chemically harmonious when mixed in the stomach, and it must be proportioned so that one is not overfed on some things and underfed on others. In other words, the diet must be balanced.

VOTE FOR ME

C. E. HENSLEY'S POSITION.

The office of Jailer is the first
I have ever asked at the hands of the good and loyal people of Lawrence county. I ask your vote only for one term of four years. I do not believe in a life tenure in office. I believe it is repugnant to the principles of all parties. There are others who are entitled to recognition, and my idea is a four year term is sufficient for any man for jailer. If you nominate and elect me I assure you that my acts as jailer will be such that you will never be ashamed that you voted for me. If elected I assure you I will keep the jail and premises in a clean and sanitary condition.

KENTUCKY HAVING BRISK AWAKENING

Everywhere In State Things Are Happening.

NEW SCHOOLS BEING BUILT.

As Fast as Laws Are Passed For the Betterment of Rural Schools Counties Take Advantage of Them—Secure Services of Experts and Select Teachers More Carefully.

There never was a time in the history of the old commonwealth when its future looked as bright as it does in this year of 1913. No matter where one goes in the length and breadth of the state one hears schools being discussed. Many new buildings are being erected in the place of those which have so long been a disgrace to the communities that have permitted them to exist.

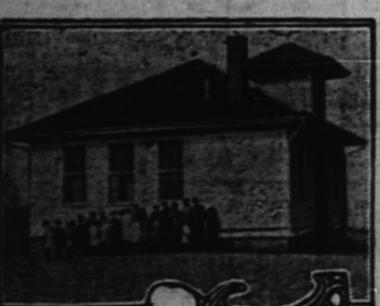

Plans are being discussed in many localities for larger grounds and better equipment. The teachers are being more carefully selected than in the past, and there is a general feeling that school problems should be fairly met and solved.

This feeling has resulted in marked activity in educational matters in all sections of the state. The county authorities have taken advantage of the new educational laws without delay.

The last legislature passed a law allowing county boards of education to provide supervisors to oversee the work done in the schools. At once over forty counties took advantage of the new law, and secured the services of one or more experts to assist the county superintendent in this supervision work.

Davies county decided to try a rather unique plan of supervision, which seems to have worked admirably during the school year that has just closed. Instead of striving to reach the 105 small schools scattered over a large county that is often cut to pieces by swollen streams that flow through flat bottom lands the board of education decided to have fifteen supervisors.

These supervisors were all teachers of strong personality and wide experience. All of them held first class certificates and had had normal training. Of course there was not enough supervision over 105 schools to keep fifteen supervisors busy, so each of them taught his or her own little school out in the country. If the supervisor had taught from Monday through Friday there would have been no time for visiting the other six schools in his group.

The plan outlined for this school year has been for the supervising teacher to hold school from Tuesday through Saturday, thus leaving Monday open for visiting the other schools.

By visiting three schools each Monday the supervising teacher would be able to reach all six schools once every two weeks. This makes it possible for the county superintendent to have a report from an expert from every portion of the county twice a month.

With the supervisor handling a small group, bad roads cannot make the work impossible. There is also the added advantage that at the opening of the school year, when many young and rather inexperienced teachers are in great need of help, the supervisor is close at hand to give the required assistance.

Close and constant supervision is the price of success in any business, and our badly scattered rural schools are no exception. We have not got the returns from our expenditure of money on our rural schools because there was no supervision to learn where the leaks were and how they might be stopped or repaired.

Money and money in any amount needed will come as soon as supervision makes the public know that results will be obtained. Our children have been taught in any fashion that suited the individual that was in the neighborhood "keepin' school." Naturally the children did not know what was the matter when they failed to make suitable progress; neither did their parents.

Every one knew that the interest of both the children and their parents flagged. They also knew that many of the older children dropped out of school because they were thoroughly dissatisfied.

Reports from county superintendents all over the state show that there is a new spirit both in the teaching force and among the children under this new influence of supervision. It is a simple proposition. It is that both teachers and children are becoming conscious of definite work that is being done in a thoroughly systematic manner.

After rescuing his wife from the Kentucky River at the mouth of Turkey Run, where they were camping, nine miles above Frankfort, Leon Bryant, traveling salesman for Hughes & Co., of Louisville, was drowned.

Former United States Senator Thomas H. Payne fell down the steps of the Capitol Hotel, Frankfort, but escaped serious injury, though his head was cut and his shoulder severely wrenched. He was talking to a friend and missed the top step as he turned to descend to the sidewalk.

Gov. McCreary has offered a reward of $200 for the arrest of John Ellison, charged with the murder of James Wright in Letcher county a year ago. The killing of Wright took place near the West Virginia border, and he is supposed to have crossed the State line. Friends of Wright raised a $250 reward.

Isaac M. Savage, of Wurtland, celebrated his ninety-first birthday Sunday, with a fine dinner. Among the large number present was Miss Olga Savage, of Fallsburg. Mr. Savage received many nice presents. Total number present 75, all report a nice time and left, wishing Mr. Savage many more happy birthdays.—Russell Times.

R. R. Todd, 40, a merchant of Irvine, was shot by unknown persons and instantly killed there last Friday night. The tragedy occurred in the rear of Mr. Todd's store.

Augusta, Ky., July 26.—During a thunderstorm at Piqua lightning played a queer prank at the home of D. Wiggins. A tree standing in the yard was struck and the current passed to the house, passing through a broken window pane, near which Miss Maggie Wiggins occupied a bed, with her back to the window. She was greatly shocked and her back was blistered as though it had been burned by hot metal.

Mr. W. S. Gunsalus, a farmer living near Fleming, Pa., says he has used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in his family for fourteen years, and that he has found it to be an excellent remedy, and takes pleasure in recommending it. For sale by Louisa Drug Co.

GRIFFITH CREEK.

After suffering for 24 years with that dread disease strangurosis, Rev. Howard Trent submitted to an operation here Saturday evening. He was taken to the Odd Fellows' Hospital and the operation performed by the hospital surgeon, Dr. W. M. Goat, assisted by a corps of skilled assistant and trained nurses. Bulletin issued at midnight Saturday gave fever 104, pulse 91, growing steadily gradually. The surgeon was interviewed shortly after the operation by some of his friends and he said if complications did not set in he was almost sure of recovery.

James Pratt and wife, of Mill Creek, W. Va., are here visiting relatives and friends.

We are very sorry to say that owing to the sickness of her mother, Miss Ethel Akers has given up her school here and gone home. A teacher so universally liked will be hard to find.

Rev. Gilbert Miller, of Mead's Branch, was here Saturday evening showing the boys just how gracefully an Odd Fellows' goat could be rode.

Master Sam Young, son of Robt. Laney, is quite sick.

KENTUCKIANS' HOME-COMING

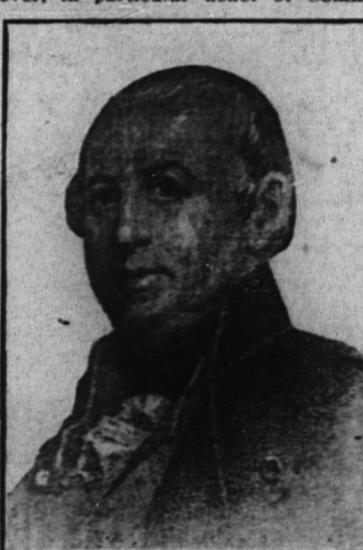

ONE MILLION FORMER RESIDENTS INVITED TO ATTEND GREAT CELEBRATION.

RAILROADS OFFER LOW RATES

Perry's Victory on Lake Erie, Battle of Thames and Massacre of River Raisin To Be Reproduced in Fireworks and Sham Battles.

One million expatriated Kentuckians and their children, even to the fourth and fifth generations, have been invited to return to Louisville to participate in the Perry's Victory Centennial Celebration, to be held in that city seven days, beginning September 29. Those particularly invited are the descendants of Kentucky soldiers and sailors of the War of 1812, and it is estimated that 75 per cent of native-born Kentuckians and the descendants of those born in Kentucky in the past century are eligible to participate in such a celebration. Approximately one million people now living in other states are included in the "list of those invited."

The purpose of the Louisville celebration is to commemorate not only Perry's victory on Lake Erie but all other events of the war of 1812. However, in particular honor of Commodore Perry a special attraction in the Louisville celebration will be the reunion of the Perry family, regardless of kinship. Everybody by the name of "Perry" will be invited to this special entertainment and those who expect to attend are requested to notify Edwin Perry at the Louisville headquarters.

The Kentucky Association, which has in charge the Louisville celebration, has given an order for a quarter of a million ancestry certificates to be handsomely engraved, and which will be filled in and given away as souvenirs to descendants of Kentucky soldiers and sailors of the War of 1812. Another entertainment in their honor will be a mammoth reception, at which refreshments will be served and opportunity provided for public addresses. For the few remaining actual sons and daughters a banquet will be given. A great ball will be given in the First Regiment Armory, which has a capacity of 20,000 for them.

Forty per cent of the white male population of Kentucky engaged in the War of 1812, consequently forty per cent of the succeeding generation were really sons and daughters of that war, and, estimating that one-half of them intermarried with families which did not participate in the war, sixty per cent of the third generation were grandchildren of the war, and in similar manner at least seventy-five per cent and probably as high as ninety-five per cent of the fourth and incoming fifth generations are descendants of Kentuckians who fought in that war.

It is estimated that in the state of Kentucky alone one million men, women and children are eligible to participate in the proposed reunion, and it is estimated that another million now living outside of Kentucky are eligible to participate.

During the week of the celebration in Louisville spectacular free events, including features on a mammoth scale not heretofore given with any American celebration, will be provided every afternoon and evening. Pilgrimages to notable historic scenes of interest may be made in the mornings. In addition to free attractions there will be scores of the highest priced amusement concessions that can be secured on the American continent.

The railroads in a radius of 500 miles of Louisville have been asked to make a rate for the celebration week and immediately preceding and following that week of one cent a mile. Railroads running out of Louisville probably will give low rates to other points in Kentucky, so that former Kentuckians who live a great distance can visit their old homes as well as attend the Louisville celebration.

Local committees are preparing an 1812 museum, in which they solicit the loan of any souvenir or relic of the War of 1812, providing the transportation at their expense, and guaranteeing that articles loaned for the week will be returned to owners. This museum for the time being will undoubtedly be the most valuable collection in America.

FARM FOR SALE.

This should appeal to men that want to raise cattle, hogs, sheep, or any kind of stock, and the man that wants to garden, raise fruits or berries, etc., for the markets are excellent here. The market gardener heads the list, the dairymen next, the live stock man next, etc. I have farms suited for all purposes, many of them on the best pikes in the county, some on good roads, all handy to school and church. I get a good many questions asked me: "Are there any negroes in the school district near such a farm you have advertised?" I have no farms in negro settlements, so there are no mixed schools here. Many of the farms I have for sale are close to my own. You may find men that will tell you before you get to me that it is too far out. Don't stop. Come on. I can show you better. The land is better out here, is much smoother and the roads are just as good. I have several good farms for sale with good locations for store, blacksmith shops, and many good opportunities for men to make money. Come and see me before you buy. Write or call me over the Bell phone. Write to Sciotoville, Ohio. Always come on No. 15 on the N. & W. Write four days before you start. I will meet you with rig.

Death visited the home of Mr. Jerry Zarnes, of Flat Branch on July 21st, and took from him his loving companion. Funeral service was conducted by Revs. P. H. Wilson and G. W. Ferguson and was largely attended. She was laid to rest in the Finley Thompson graveyard, near Genoa.

Church at this place every first Sunday and Saturday night before Rev. Carnie Crabtree pastor. Also Sunday School and singing every Sunday.

School will begin at this place the first Monday in August with Haly Webb teacher. We need a graded school at the head of Greenbrier. We have the number of scholars that is required by law. Think the Board of Education should look after our interest in that respect. We think there should be more graded schools over our county. Then we could better prepare for high schools. The high school is all right but it is like building a house and have not material to furnish it. If we had had graded schools we would have had material to furnish high school, but as we have not had them and by the vote of the people of Butler district they have the cart before the horse. Now let the Board of Education use all power to hitch the horse in the proper place.

PARCELS POST REDUCTION.

Plans for the extension, improvement and reduction in rates of the parcel post have been announced by Postmaster-General Burleson. The changes, which are to become effective August 15, include an increase from eleven pounds to twenty pounds in the maximum weight of parcels, a material reduction in the postal rates in the first and second zones, and the abandonment of the parcel post map as a means of computing rates and the substitution for it of a rate chart individualized to every post office in the United States. The plans contemplate the purchase of a large number of automobiles to be used exclusively for the delivery of parcel post matter.

While for the present the maximum weight limit of twenty pounds and the reduction in rates will apply only to the first and second zones from any given post office—a distance of about 150 miles—the changes directed constitute the first long step towards a universal extension of the system and a general reduction in the rates of postage on parcel post matter.

BRAKEMAN VINCENT.

THE BLOOMER GIRLS.

Mr. C. M. Summers Wednesday went to Huntington to see his brother-in-law, Frank Vincent, who was shot last week by Geo. Hatchester at Harold. Mr. Vincent is in a hospital and has submitted to an operation for raising a depressed portion of his skull. He is reported better.

A baseball aggregation known as the Bloomer Girls played a game with the Yatesville club on the Levisa grounds last Friday. Yatesville won the game, 10 to 9, which was witnessed by a considerable number of people. There were at least four females in the Bloomer crowd, with doubts as to a fifth.

MR. PINSON SICK.

Uncle Thomas Pinson, one of our aged citizens, has been very low with typhoid fever for several days, and is not expected to live. He is sinking daily, and for one week has been between life and death.

Mr. Pinson lived on John's creek before he moved with his family to Pikeville ten years ago, and he has a great many friends both here and there who will regret to learn of his illness and slight chance for recovery.

MOONSHINERS SUFFER FROM POTTER AGAIN.

U. S. deputy Mart Potter is commonly called the best raider in the mountains of Kentucky. Last week he and three others, Sam Collins, of Whitesburg, R. D. Holbrook and Deputy Collector Geo. W. Castle, of Grayson, came back to Pikeville after a highly successful raid through Knott and Floyd counties, bringing with them ten alleged moonshiner prisoners, after having cut up thirteen illicit stills. This was one of the most eminently successful raids ever made at one time in the mountains of Kentucky. All of these brave men have executed deeds of daring in behalf of the law in this respect that will be lasting honors to them.

STORE BURNS.

The dry goods store of George Johnson, at Virgle, Ky. (mouth of Long Fork of Shelby) was burned to the ground at 11 o'clock last Saturday night. Mr. Johnson, it is said, personally saw that his store was closed shortly after 9 o'clock and a eleven of the flames, which started from an unknown origin, were discovered. Very little was saved out of the burning building, and it is said the loss is in the neighborhood of $10,000. This is partly insured.

RELIEF FROM DARKNESS.

Presto! And Pikeville, which at night has been as dark as Erebus for more than a week, was transformed into a modern and well-lighted city again by the aid of electricity Tuesday night. On the night of Friday, July 18th, the terrible electrical storms disabled the power station of the Pike Light & Power Co., and the armatures of two of the large turbo-generators had to be sent to Charleston, W. Va., for repairs. These arrived at Pikeville again at noon Monday, and the lights came on again Tuesday evening. During the period of darkness the entire city was paralyzed, and scarcely any of the business houses were open after night. Families were forced to resort again to tallow dips, as of old, candles and kerosene lights. This certainly has given old John Rocky's oil works a period of activity. Tuesday night the streets were thronged with people who were forced to remain in doors while the city was in the grip of darkness, and the theatres, which had been so badly missed, could scarcely accommodate their vast patronage.

MRS. HESS.

Mrs. John Hess, a widowed lady who has lived in the Happy Hollow district of our city for several months, died of pneumonia at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Hess formerly lived at Fords Branch, a short distance above Pikeville, and came here with her two sons, Otis and Grant, last winter. She was laid to rest in the city cemetery yesterday after the funeral services, which were held from the home.
